Haunted Histories in abundance on Cockatoo Island

Back by popular demand, the Haunted History Night Tours at Cockatoo Island are on again, littered with more scandal, skeletons and secrets than ever! Journey back in time and visit the days of the old convict prison, Industrial Precinct and the hidden stories of the dockyards. Kicking off every Saturday night from 6:30pm, discover history with a bit of mystery hidden in Sydney's own backyard.

Sydney Harbour, with its striking Harbour Bridge and Opera House, is home to many unseen surprises but nothing more mysterious than the Haunted Histories of Cockatoo Island. Learn about the convicts that ruled Sydney largest island or the wayward girls and boys who took over their prison cells.

Haunted History tours delve into gaol life during early settlement on Cockatoo Island. Cells now transformed into tourist attractions, once housed some of the most dangerous criminals, their stories seeping from the sandstone walls they helped build. Amongst the structures which dominate Cockatoo Island's Convict Precinct, the Haunted Histories tour explores the mysteries of the 1841 built Biloea House, home to the Superintend of the time whose daughter has been known to still walk its hallways.

For the ultimate experience, stay over-night in one of the island's many accommodation options. Deluxe camping and apartment stays are available all year round, combined with the tours make for a memorable night on Sydney Harbour.

The Haunted History Night Tours are an enchanting and sometimes mystifying adventure which will have you baffled and bewildered.
